RS-B RINSE STATION/STAGING ACCESSORY

The Ram Air rinse station and staging accessory securely holds stickmen from the gear dryer in an upright position for easily rinsing/decontaminating gear that cannot be washed in a mechanical washer. After cleaning, the dressed stickman are easily transferred to the gear dryer without further handling of the gear. This accessory can also be used to stage gear when gear drying needs exceed the capacity of the gear dryer. Its compact design folds easily for convenient storage when not in use. The rinse station can be order as a base only or as a package that includes both the base and one stickman. Additional stickmen can also be ordered separately.
